Hubbub Trustee Candidate Pack

Letter from our Chair

Thank you very much for your interest in becoming a Trustee at Hubbub. This is an important time to join our board of trustees as we are rolling out our new strategy – Making Sustainability Second Nature.

The need for Hubbub is greater than ever. The political consensus on the environment has broken down, reducing pressure to act, whilst the climate and nature crises are increasingly evident. Hubbub has a large role to play in finding ways to activate popular support for climate action, shifting the narrative and driving momentum for change.

We hope to find Trustees willing to help us challenge these headwinds in a positive, practical and creative way. We work better as a Board if our Trustees leverage their varied viewpoints and experiences as we take our message to larger audiences looking for what works.

This is an opportunity to shape our future, working with a highly motivated and engaged team. If you share our commitment to change, and believe you have the experience and qualities we are looking for, we look forward to hearing from you.

Hello,
we're Hubbub

We're an environmental charity making sustainability second nature.

About Hubbub

The climate and nature crises are increasingly evident across the UK, but we're still not tackling them at the scale and speed needed.

We catalyse environmental action. We're proving that environmental action is politically possible, publicly supported and rooted in communities across the UK.

We run real-world projects that show environmental action can be positive, practical and rewarding. And then we share that evidence with business and government, to give them the confidence to make bolder choices. Check out our Theory of Change here.

Our impact

In 2025 we inspired 3.5 million actions for the environment, from people switching to plant milk and saving energy at home, to transforming local green spaces and sharing surplus food.

You can read our 2025 impact report here.

Our culture

We're committed to creating a culture that promotes diversity, equal opportunities and openness.

We know that it's our people that make all the difference to the work we do, and we're firm believers that there's always something new to learn, and it's best learnt from lived experience.

Hubbub participates in the RACE (Racial Action for the Climate Emergency) report, to support greater transparency and improve diversity and inclusion within the environmental sector. Hubbub's RACE card is here.

Much of our work is in communities, many of which are disproportionately impacted by climate injustice. It's important that we're drawing from diverse candidate pools to not only bring diversity in internal perspectives, but to also further reflect the communities that we serve.

Our values

Give a damn about the environment

Action on climate change is at the heart of everything we do. We care about the difference we make and are honest about the impact.

Curious

We're interested in people, places, trends, politics, and the world we live in. We ask questions, gather knowledge and seek opportunities to engage wider communities meaningfully.

Entrepreneurial

We lead the way. We take risks and trust instincts, experimenting without fear to discover new ways to make a difference.

Playful

Positive and playful to connect people, catch imaginations and make people smile, because the world is serious enough.

Creative

We re-imagine everything. Follow intuition and bring magic to the everyday. Help people see things differently and challenge the status-quo.

For everyone

Creating ways to include everyone in climate action, breaking down barriers and making it worthwhile too. It's built into who we are and everything we do.

Our approach

Hubbub has a track record of designing collaborative, award-winning behaviour change campaigns built on insight.

Here's how we approach collaborations:

1 Scope

Let's shape the brief. What's the challenge we're looking to tackle together? What impact do we need to have.

2 Discover

This is where we explore. We listen, observe, and ask questions to gain insight. Always building ideas based on solid evidence, environmental knowledge, and behaviour change theory.

3 Create

The heart of our approach. Here we bring campaigns to life with simple messaging and compelling design. We meet people where they're at, using positive language and highlighting co-benefits.

4 Experiment

We experiment, measure, and adapt what we do, to find out what has the biggest impact. We share what we discover so we can learn along the way.

5 Scale

When we find something that works, we can explore opportunities to scale and replicate, expanding the impact we can have together.

We work with organisations who know they can't afford to stand still on sustainability, and believe in the potential for creative ideas to make a difference.

Community Fridge Network

Supporting community groups to bring people together to tackle food waste

1/3 of all food goes to waste costing pockets and the planet (WRAP). At the same time, businesses have surplus food, while rocketing food prices and widespread loneliness affect health and wellbeing.

Since the first fridge set up in 2016 it's flourished into a national movement. Fridges are open to anyone and aim to bring people together to share food, meet up, learn new skills and prevent fresh food from going to waste.

Impact

There are over 450 fridges set up and counting. In 2022 alone:

- Fridges provided a welcoming space for over 300,000 people.
- 50 food hubs were created offering food skills and more.

- Each fridge can redistribute between 1-4 tonnes of surplus food per month.
- In 2022 the network saved over 7,000 tonnes of food from waste, sharing 16.9 million meals worth of food.

Home Advantage

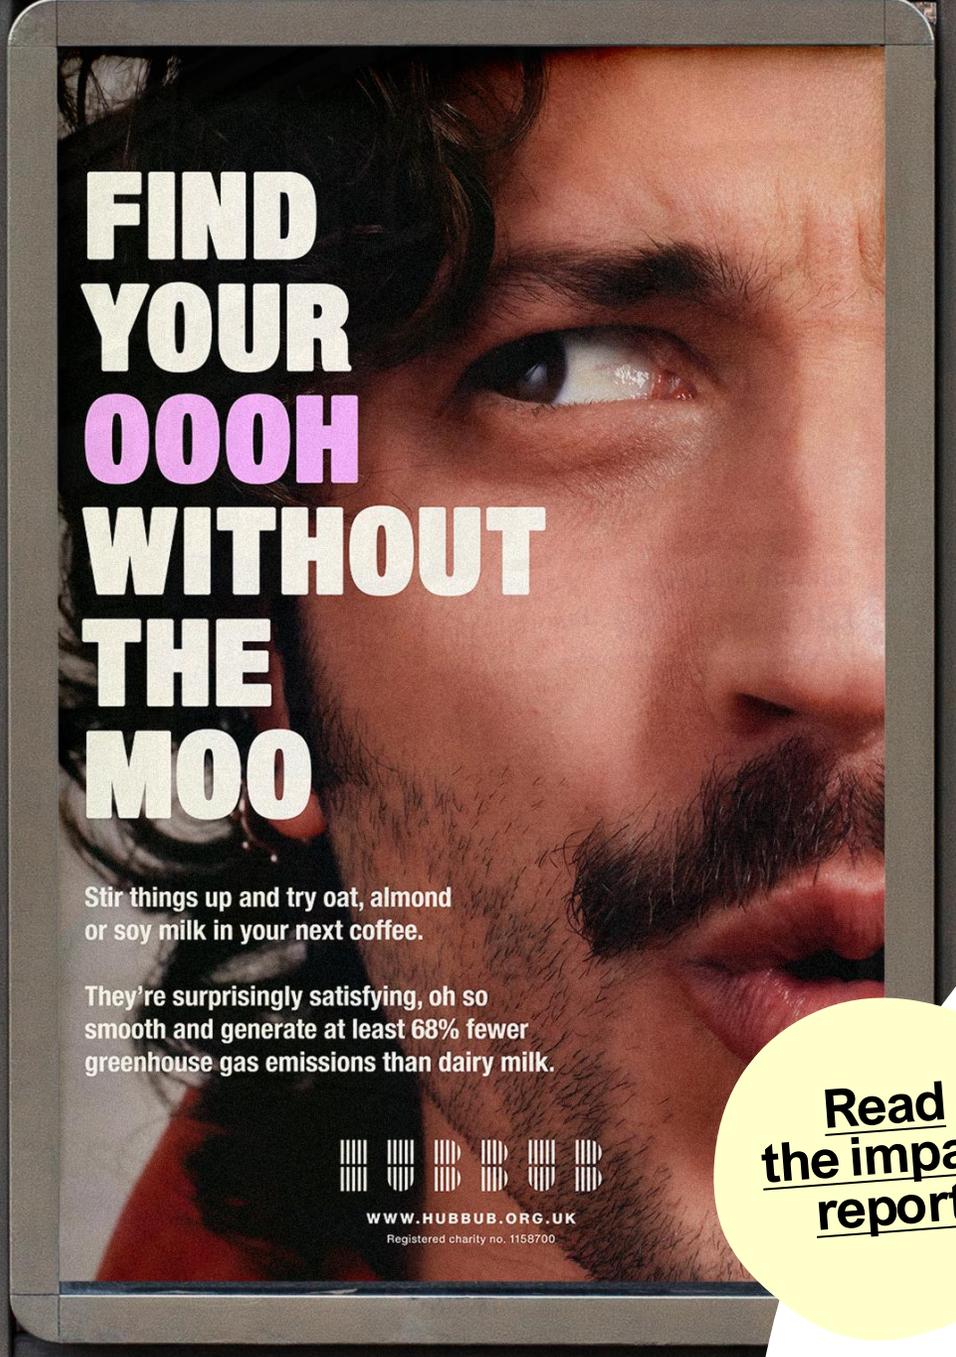

Uncovering what households really think about sustainable living

We brought together a cohort of 175 households to help understand how best we can support UK households to create the net zero homes of the future.

It gave rich insights on topics from home energy to food waste, sustainable diets and our clothing, homeware and electronics, including that households.

Learnings

- People are more willing to make incremental steps than huge changes e.g. reducing meat & dairy by 20% (less their Sunday roast!) or getting 'heat pump ready'.
- They trust those they know most, including their plumber who's built first-hand experience over time and popular 'experts' seen not to have an agenda like Martin Lewis.
- People are more likely to buy a refurbished phone if framed as 'like new'.

FIND YOUR OOOH WITHOUT THE MOO

Stir things up and try oat, almond or soy milk in your next coffee.

They're surprisingly satisfying, oh so smooth and generate at least 68% fewer greenhouse gas emissions than dairy milk.

Find Your Oooh Without the Moo

Nudging a simple swap to plant milk

Oat, almond or soy generate at least 68% fewer planet warming emissions than dairy milk. 25–34s are the most open to reducing dairy but still drink it daily. Find Your Oooh, Without The Moo targeted their habitual hot drink moments with a playful nudge toward plant milk.

Activations included romantic supermarket stickers, gym and transport ads, podcast host reads, comedy influencers, workplace challenges and a Valentine's twist: '1 in 3 Brits find plant milk drinkers more attractive.'

Impact

Out of the 2.8 million 25 to 34-year-olds who saw the campaign:

- 7 in 10 now drink more plant milk
- 63% were nudged to drink less dairy
- 88% are making more effort to eat sustainably
- On average, they doubled plant milk days (2 to 4)
